NAVY PATROL BOATS SEARCH THE COAST FOR MYSTERY SHIPS

Vessels Sighted Off Rhode Island Coast and the Virginia Capes—Nantucket Lightship Sent First Radio Warning of Strange Ships' Presence—Report Quickly Followed By Warning From Newport News—Fishing Smack's Crew Reports Submarine Off Coast of Florida —Craft Not Identified

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, April 7.—Reports of German commerce raiders off Atlantic ports were flashed along the seaboard today and all shipping practically was tied up while naval patrol ships went out to establish the identity of mysterious ships reported near the lanes.

It was the first breath of war at the doors of America and it sent a thrill through the country.

The first report came from Nantucket lightship which saw a strange ship passing west at 7:20 o'clock this morning and promptly reported it to the Boston navy yard and the navy department. Destroyer flotillas are at sea in the vicinity and presumably they heard the wireless warning which swept the coastline and set out to locate the mysterious craft. Meanwhile shipping was warned not to venture out.

Soon afterward a report of a raider off the Virginia capes came from Hampton Roads where shipping also was held in port while armed craft went to see to investigate.

Navy officials expect many reports of raiders while the sea coast is at high tension and many such probably will turn out to be unoffending tramps. No precations are being overlooked, however, and the naval patrol is on the alert to examine all strange ships.

Officials considered it would be strange for a raider to venture so close to ports which are known to be guarded. They would expect a raider to lie off at sea on the edges of the shipping lanes instead of venturing close enough to shore to be observed and reported.

It was considered not improbable that the wireless warnings caused by the mysterious ship passing Nantucket were heard all along the coast and might be responsible for other reports of a commerce raider lying in wait

Later a radio message received at the Boston navy yard said the raider laid about three miles off the lightship for half an hour and then proceeded westward where she was lost to view.

LIGHTSHIP SOUNDED FIRST ALARM; NAVY PATROL READY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Newport, R. I., April 7.—The first alarm of the German-American war was sounded off the New England coast today.

Just before 8:00 a. m. the Nantucket Shoals lightship flashed to the naval radio station here that a German commerce raider had passed the lightship bound west. Instantly plans of the navy for just such a situation became operative and while they were not disclosed there was assurance that if the audacious warship held her course she would be given a warm reception.

Meantime shipping in the vicinity was warned to make port or hold its anchorage. The weather was thick off the coast and it was not expected that the stranger would be sighted again until she was at close quarters with some vessel of the coast patrol fleet.

It was at 7.40 o'clock that the war-painted craft loomed out of the fog some 50 miles south of Nantucket island about 85 miles east of Newport. She was directly in the lane for westbond shipping and not more than 200 miles by the usual course from New York.

The supposed raider showed two masts and a huge smokestack. She appeared to be of about 10,000 tons and some shipping men who heard this description expressed the opinion that she was an armored cruiser disguised as a merchantman.

A few minutes after she was picked up the vessel was lost again in the fog.

Nantucket lightship, the outpost for westbound shipping is anchored 45 miles east by south of Nantucket island and 90 miles east of Newport. It is 393 miles east of Ambrose channel lightship, at the entrance to New York harbor, and marks the turning point for westbound craft

BRAND WAR DECLARATION AS "GIGANTIC BLUFF"

One Editor Says American Munitions Dashed Fruits of Victory From Grasp

Amsterdam, April 7. Via London. —Major Moraht, in the Deutsche Tages Zeitung, writes an abusive article on what he calls President Wilson's attempt to provoke Austro-German dissensions over the submarine warfare.

He calls the president's message, among other things, hideously hypocritical, unprincipled and untruthful.

"People like Wilson," he says, "can only be converted by sheer force."

Major Moraht is uncertain as to whether America's entrance into the war will prolong the struggle but he expressed the hope that the German navy will inflict all possible damage on America and thus "spoil the game of the American financiers." He concludes that the thing most desirable now is that Germany should remain united.

The Koelnische Zeitung, after a resume of the war operations, concludes:

"The American declaration of war is nothing but a gigantic bluff designed to save the sinking British friend and the billions with which the entente has been backed."

The Rheinsche Westfalische Zeitung says:

"America's entry into the war causes us no special heart burning. We are used to fighting the whole world."

The paper goes on to attack America on the subject of munition supplies whereby "the fruits of victory were dashed from our grasp." It concludes:

"Our soldiers, who know American shells from others by their peculiarities in bursting prematurely and in splintering have long reckoned America among their enemies. They will lose nothing of their confidence to win by America's official declaration of war."

In their Friday morning editions the Berlin Vossische Zeitung and the Berliner Tageblatt print the full text of President Wilson's address as received by wireless. The address is also printed in part by the Deutsches Tages Zeitung.

In connection with its re-publication of a part of the text of the President's speech the Tages Zeitung returns to complaining of President Wilson's "misrepresenting" the submarine warfare and of his

School "Busted Up" By Army Enlistment

(Associated Press Telegram)

Malad, Idaho, April 7.—Patriotic fever of 16 students has resulted in the disruption of the local high school. The 16 young men, comprising the entire male section of the school presented themselves at the United States army recruiting station with the intention of enlisting. Fourteen were accepted. The two others were rejected on account of being under age.

4,000 CARRANZA TROOPS ON WAY TO THE BORDER

Juarez, Mex., April 7.—Eight troop trains are enroute from Chihuahua City to Juarez today carrying approximately 4,000 de facto troops, according to an official announcement made at military headquarters. The first train with 500 men on board arrived in the railroad yards at noon.

ARREST OF SIXTY GERMANS ORDERED BY ATTY. GENERAL

Washington, April 7.—United States Marshals and department of justice agents throughout the country, by orders from Attorney-General Gregory today were arresting Germans alleged to have been identified with various conspiracies in the United States. The men, 60 in number, are suspected by the government of having been the leaders in activities in connection with plots to blow up the Welland canal, attempts to foment strikes in munition plants, and with making bombs for destroying ships carrying cargoes to the entente allies, etc.

Orders for taking the men into custody went out from the department of justice almost simultaneously with President Wilson's approval of the resolution declaring the existence of a state of war between the United States and Germany. Orders for the arrest of a number of others may be sent out.

All of the men ordered arrested are regarded as dangerous persons to be at large. None will be allowed to give bail, it is said, and they will be imprisoned perhaps until the end of the war.

The act of congress of 1798 authorized the government to arrest alien enemies without reference to the courts or obtaining warrants.

A government official is of the opinion that there probably are between 150,000 and 200,000 Germans resident in the United States. Many of them are being closely watched.

3 BILLION WILL PAY EXPENSES FOR ONE YEAR

War Finances Discussed By Secretary McAdoo and Committee

TWO BILLION CREDIT FOR ALLIES NOW CONSIDERED

Will Divide War Expense Equally Between Bond Issue and Taxation

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, April 7.—Plans for financing the war were discussed today by Secretary McAdoo with members of the house ways and means committee and with Chairman Simmons, of the senate finance committee. The $3,400,000,000 already asked for the army and navy is expected to suffice in addition to the regular appropriation bills until June 30, 1918.

The step considered most important now is the extension of an immense credit to the entente allies probably at least $2,000,000,000—as an indication that the nation is going into the war to the limit with the resources most readily available.

Bonds under such a plan would be issued to take over bonds of the allies, making them in effect security for those obligations. Most of the money derived from such bonds, it is expected, would be spent in the United States.

On the question of taxation, congress leaders feel that the burden of the war should be about equally divided between taxation and bond issues.

"The young men of the country," said Chairman Simmons, "are going to risk their lives in this war and the wealthy who may not be able to risk theirs should contribute from their wealth."

RUSSIA SUGGESTS PEACE IF PEOPLE WILL OUST KAISER

OFFICER REFUSED TO SURRENDER SHIP AND DESTROYED IT

Explosion at Guam Killed Two Officers and Five Men, and U. S. Naval Commander Imprisons 333 Others On Board Ship

SHIP DRIVEN INTO HARBOR BY JAP CRUISERS SOON AFTER WAR BEGAN

Crew Represents First Prisoners of War Seized By American Military Or Naval Forces—Cormoran Came Into Guam Under Steam Produced By Burning Woodwork Structure When Coal Was Exhausted—Has Been Cause of Continual Diplomatic Conflict With Germany Because of Crew's Conduct

Washington, April 7—The interned German gunboat Cormoran at Guam has been blown up The Cormoran refused to surrender to the American forces which went to take possession of her and was destroyed by her crew Two German warrant officers and five enlisted men of the crew were killed in the explosion

Twenty officers, 12 warrant officers and 321 enlisted men were taken prisoners.

The destruction of the Cormoran took place at 8 o'clock last night, Washington time

The navy department's announcement said:

"The interened German cruiser Cormoran at Gaum refused to surrender, blew herself up, killing two warrant officers and five enlisted men. Twenty officers, 12 warrant officers and 321 enlisted men were taken prisoners."

The message was received at the navy department at 9 a. m. today from Captain Roy Smith, governor of Guam and commandant of the naval station there.

Internment of the Cormoran at Guam has been the cause of continual conflict and disagreeable incidents between American naval officers in charge of the island and the German crew.

On several occasions former German ambassador Bernstorff appealed to the state department on behalf of the Cormoran's officers and crew to have the vessel transferred to San Francisco. Each time the navy department refused.

The Cormoran was chased into Guam by Japanese warships soon after the declaration of war between Japan and Germany The ship had exhausted her fuel supply raiding commerce and was compelled to burn her woodwork structure to make steam under which she reached that port.

The navy department issued this statement:

"The German auxiliary cruiser Cormoran was blown up in the harbor of Apra, island of Guam today by her crew, sinking immediately One warrant officer and one enlisted man are dead, one warrant officer and four enlisted men are missing, 20 officers, 12 warrant officers and 321 enlisted men have been made prisoners.

"On October 28, 1914, the 35-foot cutter called the "Ocean Comber" entered the harbor of Apra, island of Guam, in charge of Lieutenant Von Elpons, of the imperial German navy. The boat and party of three officers and four natives of New Guinea had been at sea for a long time, having left H. M. S. Cormoran for the purpose of sending a cable to San Francisco for supplies. The date of the cipher was October 12 and the location of the Cormoran was not disclosed. Permission was not granted to send the cablegram and the officers and men were interned.

"On December 14, 1914, the German auxiliary cruiser Cormoran appeared off the harbor of Apra and sent a radio asking permission to enter for coal and provisions. She was allowed to enter and the commanding officer to visit the governor.

"The governor replied that he could furnish only 200 tons of coal and 30 days' provisions only could be spared; the commanding officer was given the alternative of departing within 24 hours or being interned.

"On December 15, 1914, at 10:00 a. m. the commanding officer decided to remain in port and the ship and its personnell were interned.

"The following were on board: Twenty-one officers, one midshipman, 11 deck officers, 307 petty officers and men, four Chinese and 29 South sea natives."

BRAZILIAN PAPER SAYS WAR IS ONLY POSSIBLE WAY OUT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Rio Janeiro, April 7.—The captain of the torpedoed Brazilian steamer Parana cables that in addition to the killing of three members of his crew several sailors were wounded by the explosion of the torpedoes. He says that the ship was attacked at midnight without warning and denounces the conduct of the Germans as barbarous.

A Noite in a special edition, publishes an editorial in which it says that only three solutions present themselves: First, a simple rupture of diplomatic relations; second, a rupture followed by reprisals such as the requisition of German ships and the adoption of a sympathetic neutrality with the allies; third, a declaration of war.

"We consider the first," continues the paper, "an insufficient solution. The second will inevitably conduct to the third."

PASSPORTS READY FOR U. S. EMBASSY AT VIENNA; REPORT NOT CONFIRMED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

London, April 7.—Passports have been placed at the disposal of the American embassy in Vienna, according to a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from The Hague, quoting telegrams received there from the Austrian capital. The dispatch says that Bulgaria and Turkey have also decided to break off relations with the United States and that Holland will probably look after Austrian interests in Washington and American interests in Vienna.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, April 7.—Word that the Austro-Hungarian foreign office had placed passports at the disposal of the American embassy at Vienna had not reached the Austrian embassy here early today, according to Prince Hohenlohe-Schillingshorst one of the embassy attaches.

Minister Panaritoff of Bulgaria said today he had received no instruction from his government to break relations with the United States and demand his passports.

"I have no information that would lead me to believe that Bulgaria desires a break with the United States," he said. "I sincerely hope that European reports are untrue."

NATION'S WINTER WHEAT CROP WILL BE SHORT BY FIFTY MILLION BUSHELS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, April 7.—A prospective slump of more than 50,000,000 bushels in the winter wheat crop as compared with last year's crop, is the first war feeding problem to confront the country. Official estimates of the department of agriculture today, the first for the 1917 harvest, forecast that much of a decrease, although the acreage is much greater.

The winter wheat crop of the United States will be about 430,000,000 bushel the department of agriculture announced in its first estimate of the crop which was sown last autumn on one of the largest acreages ever planted, but which had adverse conditions through the winter.

Last year 481,744,000 bushels were harvested, and 673,947,000 bushels were produced in 1915.

Conditions on April 1 was 63.4 per cent. of normal, compared with 78.3 last year; 88.8 in 1915, and 86.2 the ten year average. The condition decreased 22.3 points from December 1 to April 1, compared with an average decline of four points in the past ten years between those dates.

Condition of rye on April 1 was 86.0 per cent. of a normal, compared with 87.8 last year, 89.5 in 1915 and 89.6 in the ten year average.

Condition of winter wheat in the important growing states on April 1, was: Ohio, 80; Indiana, 65; Illinois, 60; Missouri, 62; Nebraska, 35; Kansas, 45; Oklahoma, 74.

SIGNS ON BRITISH TRENCHES TELL OF WAR DECLARATION

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

With the British Army in France, April 6, via London, April 7.--The news of the action of the United States senate in voting for war with Germany reached the far-flung western battle line today and was hailed with cheers. Nowhere was the gratification greater than along the section of the front held by the Canadians, with whom many thousands of Americans are serving.

Many Canadian and British companies were busy today preparing signs to hold up over the trenches, telling the Germans the tidings from Washington. This is the favorite plan of the Tommies to convey all sorts of bad news to their enemies across No Man's Land.

German prisoners taken today had not heard of President Wilson's address and knew only in a vague way of the breaking of diplomatic relations in February. Some of the trench signs which were prepared included a brief translation into German of the president's statement that America was entering the lists against the German government and not against the German people. Others included the latest slogan:

"No peace with the Hohenzollerns," while still others read: "Get rid of your Kaiser."

The weight of America thrown into the scales just at this juncture, in what is regarded as the critical year of the struggle, has sent a renewed thrill of confidence all along the front. One could sense it everywhere today. Visiting Canadian headquarters and the Canadian trenches the correspondent was greeted everywhere with outbursts of congratulation. Toasts were drunk to America at many a front line dugout tonight. The British look eagerly to the participation of America thus helping to completely outlaw German militarism. It can be truthfully said that the Khaki-clad army faces the foe tonight with renewed determination to bring about a quick decisive result. There was a new note of joyous confidence as the British and Canadian cannon hurled tons of shells against the German positions.

Keep Your Hair and Scalp Clean

If you want a good healthy growth of hair care should be used in keeping the scalp clean, free of dirt, dust and dandruff. Do not use cheap soaps or shampoos that contain too much alkali as they are liable to dry the scalp and make the hair too brittle. For steady use the best thing is kreamol, a liquid which you can secure at almost any drug store. It is very cheap as a four ounce bottle will be sufficient to last a family for several months.

To cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly, simply moisten the hair with water and rub in the kreamol. One or two teaspoonfuls will make a rich, creamy lather and it is very easily rinsed. The hair dries quickly and evenly and leaves it fine, bright, fluffy and easy to care for.—Adv.

Kreamol is Sold at Evans' Drug Store (Warden Hotel Block), Newark, Ohio, and Ullman's Drug Store, Granville, Ohio.

MORE ABUSE FOR PRESIDENT FROM GERMAN EDITORS

attempts to cause a split between the German people and its military leaders.

"Beholding this crafty document," it continues, "who will still believe President Wilson is a dreamy philosopher?"

In a discursive article on "Monarchy versus Democracy," the Kreuz Zeitung declares the German, and especially the Prussian people, were always essentially monarchial and it sees the sole salvation of the nation in the continuance of that system. The short sighted democracy at home, it says, is blind to the signs of the times and to the question, "what is the need of our time?" the newspaper gives the answer that today in this war the foundations of power must be laid down for a future greater Germany, strong enough to withstand the gigantic pressure of Great Britain, Russia and the United States. This may be our last opportunity," it adds. "May the monarchy again succeed in finding the right way to Germany's greatness."

Commenting on the Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung's semi-official statement regarding the address in which it was declared President Wilson was trying to "loosen the bonds between the people and princes of Germany," so that it might "become an easier prey," for its enemies, the Lokal Anzeiger says:

"It is peculiar that it is Mr. Wilson who would bring us freedom—the same man whom the American constitution gives autocratic power and who has craftily driven the peaceful American nation into war. Circumstances have driven him further than he wanted to go, because in his vain obstinacy he refused to yield while there was yet time. Let him now look for himself. The German people who rejected him as a peace broker certainly want none of him as a champion of liberty."

Tomorrow will be a good day at Neal Avenue M. E. church. A family gathering at 10:30. Brief address by the pastor, followed by roll call of the membership. In connection with above Mr. Houdenshield will sing a solo with cello and violin. Obligato and the choir will render a beautiful anthem.

FLAG RAISING ON SUGAR LOAF AT GRANVILLE

Governor Cox and Congressman Ashbrook Send Messages to People of Village

PATRIOTIC ADDRESSES FEATURED BIG MEETING

Old Guard and Band Took Part In Ceremony As the Flag Was Unfurled

[Special to The Advocate]

Granville, O., April 7.—The flag raising and patriotic rally in Granville yesterday afternoon was one of memorable events in the town's history, and every one has reason to feel proud of the result. Despite the inclemency of the weather, there was a big parade from the Post office to Sugar Loaf, including the following organizations: The Granville Band, The Old Guards, Boy Scouts, Lodges, other organizations, citizens and college boys. The colors were born by six young girls dressed in white who walked near the head of the procession. A large assemblage of people greeted the speakers and the wildest enthusiasm prevailed.

The program opened with invocation of Dr. R. S. Colwell. The band played "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and all joined in singing.

Roe Morrow who presided then gave a brief talk which was received with applause.

Flag Raising.

Bugle Call—"To the Colors"—W. T. Jones.

Band played "Star Spangled Banner" which all joined in singing.

The Old Guard fired a salute.

Talk—"The Flag"—Mayor C. D. Coon.

Talk—"Patriotism"—H. W. Deming.

Brief talk on "Boys of 61"—Rev. J. L. Wylie.

Music by the Band—"Columbia the Gem of the Ocean.

The talks were all received with enthusiasm, and one of the features of the program was the reading of the following telegrams by H. W. Deming received from Gov. Cox and Congressman Ashbrook.

"The Flag of the United States symbolizes freedom. It speaks for the highest order of humanity and justice to extend these benefits to all, to the end that no set of ambition mad monarchs may ever again control the destinies of any people. We will follow that flag to the uttermost end of the earth. Now as never before must we put country before self. I congratulate the people of Granville on the patriotic purpose.—James M. Cox, Governor of Ohio.

"We are now in war. We did not seek it, we did not want it. It was thrust upon us—a war to preserve our rights on the high seas, and the freedom and the liberty for which our Revolutionary sires freely shed their blood. Let us, therefore, wage war, not against the German people, but the German government, in such manner that we may speedily restore permanent peace for the whole world, and preserve and maintain the honor and dignity of our great nation. I know that the patriotism of all Granvillians will be in evidence on Sugar Loaf today, and can be relied upon in the future.—William A. Ashbrook.

Dr. J. W. Rohrer has gone to Dayton where he will attend the funeral of his fifteen year old niece. Miss Rohrer died at her home in Greenfield of typhoid fever, and is to be buried in Dayton tomorrow.

Miss Addie Slack is in Washington, D. C., visiting at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Burriss.

Miss Grace Chamberlain of the Granville Library reports several gifts during the past month from the following: Mrs. Helen Hunt, four books; Mrs. L. A. Austin, two books; Mrs. Harriet Sinnett, six books; Mrs. Stella Bancroft Sukesdorf, gave through Mrs. C. B. White, a complete edition of Browning's works; Mrs. C. B. White gave five books; Mrs. R. S. Colwell, one book.

Rev. H. F. Stillwell, D. D., of Cleveland, will conduct an eight-day series of meetings, beginning Easter Sunday morning, and continuing until April 15. Meetings will be held each evening, except Saturday next week, at 7 o'clock. A general invitation is extended to any not engaged in other services, to attend these meetings.

In the Presbyterian church tomorrow will be held special Easter services. In the morning the choir will sing an arrangement of "Christ Our Passover," by Fred Schilling, and in the evening will give "The Resurrection according to St. John," a short song service written by F. F. Bullard. Prof. Biefeld will assist in the service.

In the Methodist church tomorrow at 6 a. m., Easter Praise and Prayer service; 10 a. m., sermon, "The Power of God," by the pastor, Rev. Otto Giesen; 7 p. m., Easter Song and Music. Everybody is cordially invited.

At St. Luke's church—At 10:30 a. m., a service with Archdeacon Joseph H. Dodsohn in charge. Sermon by Bishop Theodore Irving Reese.

GRANVILLE MAN GIVEN OVATION BY COLLEGE BOYS

Franklin, Ind., April 7.—That the Franklin College board of directors has selected just the right man for president of the local institution was made known at the chapel service, when Dr. Charles E. Goodell, dean of Denison University of Granville, Ohio and president of Franklin College, received one of the greatest ovations ever given in the chapel. A storm of applause greeted Dr. Goodell as he entered the chapel with Dr. E. A. Hanley, the retiring president, and continued for several minutes, which was evidence of the fact that the new president has the hearty support and co-operation of the student body and facuty. Dr. Goodell recalled his first days in Franklin thirty-one years ago. He spoke of the uninviting appearance of the town and college buildings at that time, but went on to say that he soon learned it was men and not buildings that make a college. The speaker paid tribute to Dr. Hanley. Dr. Goodell made it clear that he believes in the work of the smaller college.

JORDAN DEFEATED FOR RE-ELECTION AS SUPERINTENDENT

The members of the county board of education, Messrs. C. L. Stevens, Linnville, Walter Hassel of Alexandria, F. F. Koontz of St. Louisville, Charles S. Brown of Hebron and C. C. Mauger of Pataskala, met in the office of County Superintendent Elmer W. Jordan on the fourth floor of the Trust building for the purpose of taking action relative to the election of a county superintendent. It was decided not to re-elect Supt. Jordan, and to defer electing his successor until the May meeting of the board.

It had been known for some time that there was opposition to Supt. Jordan, but his re-election was predicted by his friends. The ballot was a secret one, that is so far as giving information was concerned, but an Advocate representative was reliably informed that it stood three to two against the present superintendent.

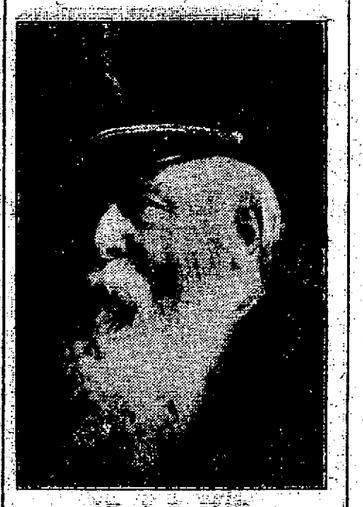

Mr. Jordan, after the meeting gave the Advocate the following statement: "I have been defeated for re-election. Somehow I feel as if a great burden had been lifted from me. May the next county superintendent have the united support of all his superintendents. I thank those friends who were kind enough to give me their endorsement."

TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF DR. O. P. SOOK

When "Taps" were sounded on last Sunday night another member of the "Old Guard" heard "the once clear call for him," and sped away to join the ranks of that great Guard Invisible and those immortal dead who live again in lives made better by their having lived.

Dr. O. P. Sook held a place of trust and affection in the hearts and homes of more of our people here in Newark, possibly, than any other man.

In his long life of professional healing of the sick in body, his great success was due, largely, to his absolute faithfulness, devotion and sympathy; and who that ever knew him, can ever forget his unfailing optimism, his cheery greeting, his inexhaustible humor, causing smiles to take the place of tears and moans, and easing the burden of many a weary heart, as sick in spirit, as in body. "He was a man, take him for all in all, we shall not look upon his like again."" But we rejoice in having known him. Our lives are the richer for his having lived among us; for tho' he had passed the prescribed years of three score and ten yet Age never knew him, nor had he yet, even come face to face with her visage; for in his heart and mind were the well springs of an effervescent and perennial youth. The snows of winter were upon his head, but eternal spring was in his heart. We shall miss him, oh, how we shall miss him! but we shall not think of him as having gone to his long rest, ah no! for he was never tired in spirit; and has but "left his out grown shell on Life's unresting sea," to build for himself "more stately mansions."

Death is not a blind alley, it is a thoroughfare, and if he fell asleep one night on earth, it shall be but to awaken in that place where he has gone, where his day's work will begin again the next morning. In that new country, those who loved him here, shall think of him "faring on, as dear in the love of there as the love of here." For us the great change is yet to be, for him, he has experienced "That most beautiful adventure in Life."

If this great soul could have chosen his own time, and mode of departure upon this "beautiful adventure" he could not have made a happier or more fitting choice.

At the close of his day's work he passed, all silently and alone out into the unknown land,—

"And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since he lingers there."

So could we wish to go, ever as he had wished, and hoped—

"His work accomplished, and his long day done;
His wages taken and in his heart some late bird singing.
So was he gathered to the quiet West,
The sundown splendid and serene!
For as God lives, a sweetness greater than we know, abides in death.
As leaves of summer bud and blow,
There is prepared a mightier surprise
Than any dare to dream, or hope for, or surmise."

The ranks of the "Old Guard are growing thinner year by year on this side of the Great Divide, and soon the roll call will be "over there," and then what joy to hear once more the tones of each loved and familiar voice, and among them loud and clear, the voice of Sergeant Sook of the Hospital Corps of the "Old Guard" with his glowing face and pleasant, Give the ready answer, Present!

"He is not dead, this friend, not dead,
But in the match we mortals tread
Yet some few trifling steps ahead and nearer to the end,
So that you, too, once past the bend,
Shall meet again as face to face
This friend you fancy dead."

TERESE R. STEVENS.

EASTER MORNING

A cross of marble, a wreath of lillies beneath the inscription "Easter Morning" and as the fair sweet flowers breathe their holy incense round the cross, our thoughts travel far back through the misty ages to the morning of the resurrection, a morning that heralded joy and peace unto the sons of men, and wakened in them a life as broad as time, as deep as eternity.

Every flower, every leaf, every blade of grass that falls asleep amid the glories of the autumn have the promise of a future life. Hopes and fears, joys and sorrows, by their sad yet hallowed memories bid us rejoice again.

Joys we had thought forever passed away rise again and bid us dry our tears, and look to "Him whose cheeks with tears were marred." Sorrows whose cup of bitter anguish, and whose cleansing fires, lead us to the cross where we behold the Saviour of the world whose redeeming love gives us hope of a future life.

"I am the resurrection and the life whosoever believeth on me though he were dead yet he shall live." O blessed words of assurance; O blessed hope for those who mourn. He is risen! He is risen! Christ has won the victory. C. M. H.

The Overland Big Four continues the famous 35 horsepower Overland which made this institution the second largest automobile concern in the world—in eight years.

It is the same comfortable, roomy, powerful, rugged car that for years has outsold all cars which now sell for more than $400.

Its brand new body design makes it more attractive than ever.

The wheelbase is 112 inches and it has long 48 inch cantilever rear springs.

We believe it is the most comfortable, the easiest riding car to be had for the price—$850.

It is as clearly as ever the excess value car of its class.

And the Overland Light Six is likewise the excess value car of its kind.

Most of the body and chassis parts of the Light Six are the same as those of the Big Four.

So the Six shares directly in the economies of the combined production of fours and sixes.

These cars exemplify with great clearness the excess values made possible through the economies effected by our huge production of the most comprehensive line of cars ever built by any one producer.

Ask us to show you the Big Four and the Light Six.

"SPIKE" GRADUATES AS NEWSIE; HOLDS GOOD FACTORY JOB

The accompanying likeness will be recognized by nearly every one in Newark. It is that of John "Spike" Carr, ex-newsboy, who resides with his parents in North Fourth street.

For years "Spike" was one of the dependable newsies of the Advocate. No matter what hour he was requested to report for an extra he was always on the job on time, and was usually the first boy in line for his papers. His sonorous voice has awakened many a sleeping denizen in the early hours of the morning with the cry of "Huxtra." "Huxtra," and he was a regular with one of the Columbus morning dailies for several years at Third street and North Park Place.

"Spike" was a hustler and he made money, taking it home where it was saved for a rainy day. He graduated as a news merchant and accepted employment in the Rugg halter works, where he has been for several years and by faithful adherence to duty was given charge of several machines, being paid a man's wages. Now he has ambitions to become an expert machinist and will learn that trade providing Uncle Sam does not require his services. He is willing to go to war and wants to join the aviation corps. It is hoped that his ambitions will be realized and that he will make his mark as a battler in the air.

Perhaps it's because the average man takes a tumble to himself that there is plenty of room at the top.

Its action is so positive, so certain, every druggist sells phelactine under a money-back guarantee. It is non-odorous, non-irritating, non-poisonous—a child could safely eat it. LARGE FLAGS HARD TO OBTAIN; BURKE CO. USES SMALLER ONES

The employees of the Burke Golf Company took up a subscription, ten days ago, to purchase a large flag which was to be placed on the factory building. Not being able to procure what they wanted in Newark, they sent their order to the John C. Dettra & Co., Oaks, Pa., but these people had sold out completely on all large flags; consequently, the men were compelled to buy smaller flags in Newark. They were greatly disappointed; however, their patriotism has not been shattered in the least—they have only taken their money and purchased two smaller flags and they are absolutely for President Wilson and America.

NEXT MONDAY NIGHT.

The big tabernacle that has been erected in Newark for the Bromley evangelistic meetings begining tomorrow will be the scene of a great gathering next Monday night.

In response to the request of the Chamber of Commerce and in pursuance to the call of Mayor Bigbee, the campaign committee has turned over the equipment for a monster patriotic meeting. The public is cordially invited. Admission will be free, unless the wearing or carrying of an American flag may be construed as the price of admission.

Patriotic meetings are being held throughout the length and breadth of this land and they are arousing great enthusiasm. Only a few days ago a great gathering was held in New York City and yesterday afternoon our neighboring village of Granville had a splendid demonstration. The largest centers of population and the villages of the country are vying with one another in the manifestation of the patriotic spirit.

The great world war is now upon us. America has joined forces with the cause of the Allies in demanding the defeat of autocracy. We have entered the gigantic struggle not with a thought of territorial expansion or financial gain but with the sole object of maintaining our liberty and our rights, of protecting the lives and property of our citizens, of helping to bring about not only the defeat of militarism and the power of kings but of dethroning autocratic government and placing the government of the nations where it belongs—in the hands of the people. The citizens of this great republic have reason to feel proud of their country. They have good reason to voice and listen to expressions of patriotism. The big tabernacle should be filled to overflowing next Monday night in response to the call which invites all citizens to attend.

READY FOR SERVICE.

Mr. John Sherwood Fleek left last night for Chicago to enter the United States military service with the Harvard university unit.

This voluntary action upon Mr. Fleek's part is worthy of more than passing notice. It is an example well worth bringing to the attention of the young men of Licking county. Here is a young man recently graduated from Harvard university who lays aside the important duties of a partnership in one of the leading business enterprises of the city, ready the instant his country calls to render the best service that is in him, ready to give his life, if necessary, for protection of the Flag. Mr. Fleek is a director of the Newark Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Rotary club. He is one of Newark's most prominent young men, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Fleek.

The new American army will be made up largey of men of John Fleek's type—young, active, vigorous, intelligent fellows who appreciate all that Old Glory typifies and are willing to give the best that is in them for its protection.

MESSAGE OF EASTER.

The majority of the American people take the Easter celebration somewhat lightly. They listen attentively to the words of the preacher, and are more or less moved according to temperament. But with all the style parades and striking new clothes, the more frivolous side is somewhat prominent.

Over in Europe Easter is something very different this year. In the great fighting countries, the majority of families have suffered the loss of some one from their own hearthstone. Others on the firing line are likely to be called to pass on at any moment. Under that atmosphere Easter has few festal aspects.

Over there millions throng the churches hoping for some message of hope to fill their dark lives. The message of confidence which the Fathers have passed on to us is heard with hungry ears and will be cherished for many a day.

More and more the tendency of thoughtful men is to accept the Easter message of resurrection and fulfilment which the Bible brings. There was a time when the educated and scientific world scoffed at the idea of any confidence in a future life. The educated world pays more respect today to the value of the gospel story, and it is the ignorant and unthinking, the money getters and materialists, who are the doubters.

All philosophy goes to confirm the truth of Easter's message. If there be not some future life to adjust wrongs of this one, the world is indeed a mockery and justice is not in it. It is impossible to conceive of a maker of the universe who should not bring to full fruition any life that manifests a desire for truth and righteousness.

The former Danish West Indies now rejoice under the United States flag, and it is also probable that they will have to pay higher for butter, eggs, and meat.

If it is true, as reported, that Germany expended $$75,000,000 on propaganda in this country we can only say that she hardly got her money's worth.

After denouncing the government for failure to conserve resources, millions of people will again this summer let sizable back yards remain uncultivated.

The watchword in the war with Spain in 1898 was "Remember the Maine." Will "Remember the Lusitania" be a watchword in the war of 1917?

Every where one goes about town the Stars and Stripes may be seen. There are a few windows where Old Glory is not seen, but very few.

Remember that every rumor gains momentum through circulation and that it is not safe to credit every disparaging remark one hears.

About this time of year the sporting writer begins to look with condescension on the unimportant functions of the editor-in-chief.

LA FOLLETTE.

(Columbus Dispatch.)

Probably no public man in this country ever destroyed himself more completely than has senator Robert M. La Follette, senator from Wisconsin. He has opposed every step leading to war with Germany, not from a love of peace, but from a conviction that Germany is right and that rising anti-Prussian sentiment in this country is absolutely wrong. We hear from him that Germany has been patient with America and long-suffering; that we share in the responsibility for her distress and that she was right, when we did not act to save her, in turning her submarines loose to destroy whom and what they could.

For La Follette, the appeal of the president for peace and good will and the destruction of the autocracy that is threatening to destrop the peoples of earth, has no meaning. Blinded by his hatred of England to the plainest facts of the war, he has fallen a victim of his own egotism. His greatest punishment will be his six years isolation in a body of men who see the truth and are ready to serve and sacrifice for the country when it stands for the liberty of all nations and self-government throughout the earth.

When there is a national crisis on hand, every day is flag day in this country.—Washington Star.

BATTLE HYMN OF THE REPUBLIC

Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord;
He is tramping out the vintage where the grapes of wrath are stored;
He hath loosed the fateful lightning of his terrible, quick sword,
His truth is marching on.

I have seen him in the watchfires of a hundred circling camps;
They have builded him an altar in the evening dews and damps;
I have read his righteous sentence by the dim and flaring lamps—
His day is marching on.

I have read a fiery gospel, writ in burnished rows of steel,
"As ye deal with my contemners, so with you my grace shall deal."
Let the hero, born of woman, crush the serpent with his heel,
Since God is marching on.

He has sounded forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat;
He is sifting out the hearts of men before his judgment seat.
Oh, be swift, my soul, to answer him! Be jubilant, my feet.
Our God is marching on.

In the beauty of the lilies Christ was born across the sea,
With a glory in his bosom that transfigures you and me;
As he died to make men holy let us die to make men free,
While God is marching on.
—Julia Ward Howe.

LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING GERMANY.

(Philadelphia Record.)

The very valuable suggestion has been made that copies of the President's address to Congress be scattered over Germany by aeroplanes. The iron hand of imperialism has kept Germany as much in the dark as possible, but it could not be entirely successful. Any book telling Germans about the circumstances under which the Foreign Offices and General Staffs of Berlin and Vienna precipitated the war they are so weary of is suppressed by the police. But some of these were on sale a few weeks before the police discovered how much truth was in them. To a small extent literature has been distributed by aeroplanes. Some literature gets smuggled in from adjacent countries.

Occasional Germans show a little consciousness of the guilt of their Government, and since the Russian revolution German opponents of Kaiserism have been much emboldened. Even the Chancellor has found it necessary to promise political liberty after the war; not just now, but after peace shall come. The German mind is beginning to open to the facts. The prestige of the army is shaken. The throne is not quite so secure as it used to be. This is the golden moment for getting the President's address to Germans.

It was an extraordinary inspiration of the President to confront autocracy with democracy in his war address. It was a tremendous hit at home and abroad. The discerning were able to see at the outset of the war that this was the issue, but for the majority, who observe superficially, the fact was concealed by the participation of Russia with England and France. The Russian revolution has disclosed the fundamental fact.

On March 9 the President called Congress to meet on April 16. On March 15 the Russian revolution forced the Czar to abdicate. On the 21st the President issued a new call for Congress to meet on April 2. With the Russian autocracy overthrown the President recognized that the moment had come to direct the attention of the American people to the conflict between autocracy and democracy and to remind them that in such a contest we could not remain neutral. If his great speech, which will prove to be one of the landmarks of history, can be extensively sent into Germany, with its appeal to the people everywhere to make an end of imperialism, the seed will produce a crop not to the taste of the Hohenzollerns and the Hapsburgs. The Crown Prince, whose shako is decorated with the Death's Head and Crossed Bones of the Pirate flag, and who was at the head of the war party in Germany, will stand small chance of sitting on the throne of his ancestors.

Massachusetts Congratulates Russia.

"Massachusetts, the oldest Commonwealth in the New World, sends greetings to the Russian democracy," was the cablegram which Governor McCall sent yesterday to the president of the Russian Duma at Petrograd. It is safe to assume that there will be few people in this State to dissent from that action. The prospect that this horrible war is to encourage and increase the democratic forces in the world is the consolation that upholds many hearts at this time and it would surely seem as if the Overruling Power in which men believe was shaping results to this end. It is a consummation long hoped for, and nowhere more intenseil than in this greatest of republics.—Springfield Republican.

OUR FLAG

"RESOLVED, That the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation." These words brought the flag into official being—a resolution of congress, adopted in Philadelphia on June 14, 1777. Yet a whole year earlier there had been a flag, the one sewed by the devoted fingers of Betsy Ross, the young Philadelphia woman who had made it at the suggestion of a committee from congress, accompanied by General Washington, from whose coat of arms the design was borrowed.

The flag went into battle for the first time at Brandywine, Sept. 11, 1777, and on Feb. 14, 1778, received the first salute from a foreign power when the Ranger, commanded by John Paul Jones, was saluted by the French in Quiberon bay, France. At length came Vermont and Kentucky into the Union, and two more stripes and two more stars were added to our banner on May 1, 1795. So it continued for twenty-three years, by which time five more states had entered the galaxy of commonwealths. And then on April 4, 1818, the flag was fixed at thirteen stripes again, but with twenty stars, one to be added on July 4 for each new state thereafter. And Illinois, admitted in December of the same year, was the first to set a new star in the blue field where today are forty-eight.

Did You Know

That William Wordsworth was born 147 years ago today, April 7, 1770, in Cockermouth, Cumberland, England? He was England's greatest nature poet. His favorite pastime was walking and observing nature. De Quincy estimates that Wordsworth, during the course of his life, must have walked 175,000 miles. He composed his best poetry during his walks, dictating it after his return. Dove Cottage, Grasmere, in the Lake country, where he wrote the best of his poetry, remains almost unchanged, and is one of the most interesting literary homes in England.

We Lunch at 12—You're Invited, Bill.

Dear Editor Melting Pot:—
I tried with all my might to write a winner, Mr. Spencer,
That would carry off that dollar and also pass the censor.
But out of all the many words that nicely rhyme with "seed"
Somehow I cannot seem to find the very one I need.
Whoever wrote that line may think it is an easy lead.
But I have failed to keep the pace, tho' I've worked my brain full speed
So I guess I'll have to pass it up, although I'm broke indeed.
And next week for an easier line I most sincerely plead.
Now you may think my motives are inspired by only greed.
It isn't so. They're prompted by one little word—that's "feed."
Willie G.

"Listen to My Tale of Woe."

"Have a heart" please, Mr. Editor, and listen to my plea,
Our W. M. S. president assigned a task to me
(Along with many others interested in the work)
And when it comes to doing, I'll not be one to shirk.

In raising funds for our good cause we've hit upon the plan
That each should earn a dollar and the only way I can
Think of, to bring that "plunk" in is to win a limerick prize
And one can do most anything if one but only tries.

I've thought of ways and means until I don't know where I'm "at";
I can't raise garden stuff because I'm living in a flat,
And tho' I'm doing house work from dawn till close of day,
That is an occupation that was never known to pay.

I might go thro' hubby's pockets but that would not be fair,
To go out and work for others I've not the time to spare:
So I'll just send in a limerick hoping that it will do
Do the heathen get that dollar? Well, sir, that's "up to you."
E. P. H.

It is with pleasure that the Advocate responds to this appeal from E. P. H. The dollar reached her in the morning's mail.

Limerick Contest.

Imagine how you'd feel yourself if, when your garden grew,
Your neighbors' chickens scratched it up; you'd use strong language, too:
Of what he said, though, Mrs. Buxton's given but a hint,
Because she thought his words were quite too violent to print.
We're sending her the dollar with the hope that when we meet
This man's exact expression she will quietly repeat:—

He bought him a package of seed:
He thought he had done a good deed;
Neighbors' chickens came out
And scratched them about,
And the things that he said you'd not read.
—Mrs. B. F. Buxton, Granville.

And now since you have read the limerick that gets the dough,
We beg your kind attention for the good ones just below:—

He bought him a package of seeds.
Thinking gardens would help fill their needs:
He planted them all.
Still, when it came fall,
Alas! he had nothing but weeds.
—Doubtful, Granville.

He bought him a package of seed,
For vegetables he had great need:
For high cost of living
Makes the provider's job killing;
So his garden was not made for greed.
—Ellyn M. Bradley.

He bought him a package of seed
And hastened home then with all speed:
To plant a garden with which
To put U. C. of L. in the ditch.
But his harvest was naught but a weed.
—Miss Helen Freednour.

He bought him a package of seeds,
A hoe and a rake now he needs:
If he works with his might
It all will come right.
If he doesn't he'll only grow weeds.
—Fern.

He bought him a package of seeds,
Enough to supply all his needs:
If he'll plant and hoe
So the weeds will not grow,
From a good crop he'll have the proceeds.
—Wantamine, Jacksontown.

He bought him a package of seed,
For gardening in spring is a need:
Thought he'd raise beets and things
For the joy that it brings,
And now he works quite hard, indeed.
—N. M.

He bought him a package of seed,
His favorite kind, too, indeed:
If he'll use spade and hoe
They surely will grow
Enough for his family to feed
—N. B. G., Jacksontown.

He bought him a package of seeds,
Thought they surely would meet all his needs:
But the sun grew so hot
That work he would not,
And now he has nothing but weeds.
—E. S., Granville.

He bought him a package of seed,
Of variety quite good, indeed;
If he'll plow and sow,
And not let the weeds grow,
'Twill be strange if he does not succeed.
—U. S., Jacksontown.

He bought him a package of seed
And said, "I shall plant these, indeed!"
But his wife, with a frown,
Said, "You lazy old clown,
You were always too late with your seed."
—John Madigan.

He bought him a package of seed,
Without knowing how many he'd need;
He planted a row
But could not use a hoe,
So was careful to pull every weed.
—Mrs. A. H. Dixon, Alexandria.

He bought him a package of seeds,
And thought he'd accomplish great deeds,
Said he: "I'll raise a great crop."
But it all went to rot,
For nought could he raise but some weeds.
—C. C.

He bought him a package of seed;
And though wife for the front lawn did plead.
Not a foot would he spare,—
Planted seed everywhere,
So great was this "near" farmer's greed.
—E. P. H.

He bought him a package of seed,
And said he would plant them with speed;
So he said to his wife,
"Guard these with your life,
Or else we shall miss a good feed."
—Mrs. J. M. M.

He bought him a package of seeds,
He thought to supply the world's needs:
He hired him a plot
And worked a whole lot,—
And raised a fine harvest — of weeds.
—The Muse.

He bought him a package of seeds;
The call of his country he heeds;
To intensively farm,
To extensively arm.
Are among our most urgent of needs.
—S. E. H., St. Louisville.

He bought him a package of seeds,
He has all of the ground that he needs;
So he sowed them and hoed them
And finally "growed" them.
But all of the seeds grew to weeds.
—William Loughery, Massillon.

He bought him a package of seeds
To supply all his vegtable needs:
But the garden, alas:
Would grow nothing but grass
With a pretty fair sprinkling of weeds.
—J. G.

He bought him a package of seeds
To raise for his family's needs:
Got a hoe,—hurt his back,—
Gave the weeds a great whack,
So he now gathers in many feeds.
—Zella Viola Yowell.

He bought him a package of seed
In hopes all the town-folks to feed:
But the way the weeds grew
In those rows, through and through,
Made even the bleeding-hearts bleed.
—Harold S. Chaney.

He bought him a package of seed,
High prices had shown him his need:
He worked early and late,
And, I'm happy to state,
In his garden there scarce was a weed.
—Mrs. O. F. S.

He bought hi ma package of seed;
The act was as good as the deed;
He went to the garden
In an old "Dolly Varden,"
And a fishing worm soon had him treed.
—G. B. S.

"He bought him a package of seeds,
Garden's what this old country now needs:
With prices so high,
'Twill help us all by,
And also get rid of the weeds."
—Mrs. W. J. L.

SWEATER FADS FOR SPRING GIRLS

In Spite of the Scarcity of Dyes and the Surplus of Good Models Last Winter, This Season Is Full of Grace and Color.

LUCKILY one need not wear a sweater of silk in order to be modish. Many of the wool models are extremely chic and preferable to silk for some purposes. To be sure, one pays $25 or $30 for some of the good Angora models, but there are plenty of pretty things at lower prices, and this season is bringing us some very good new details in the smart sweaters.

The thing seems almost incredible. So many changes have been rung upon the sweater idea that the designers might well be excused for failing to offer novelties, but new modes in line and trimming do appear and new stitches, new colorings, make even the familiar models take on new graces.

The most radical novelty is the sleeveless sweater. It is made in both knitted silk and silk jersey and is one of the slip over models that have attained a great vogue within recent months. In details it varies a little, but the general idea remains the same, and in lovely shades of rose, yellow, blue and greens it is a very delectable garment for sports or ordinary summer wear.

Long sleeved models built up on lines much like those of the short sleeved models are numerous and are greatly liked, as are certain new jerseys, which, while not, strictly speaking, of the sweater family, are closely related in purpose to the slip-over types of sweater.

Angora and Shetland sweaters are also made on the slip-over lines with scarf girdles, and these come in a wide range of lovely plain colors and in cleverly harmonized stripes. One of the new models is in Shetland, of white or delicate color, and has around the bottom a very deep band of Roman stripe, or at least of horizontal stripes in many gay but skillfully associated colors. There is a bit of the bright striping on the girdle ends, but nowhere else.

Striped Shetland slip-overs have fuzzy Angora collars and cuffs of white or of one of the stripe colors. For example, a particularly pretty model in soft, creamy rose and light taupe has collar and cuffs of taupe Angora, and a sweater of corn color and white has its collar and cuffs of white Angora.

EXCELLENT POTPIE.

How to Make a High Cost of Living "Beat."

Take about three pounds of lean veal from the shoulder or other inexpensive cut that has but little fat about it. Dredge with salt, pepper and flour. Put a little pork drippings, olive oil or butter in the bottom of a round bottomed iron pot, and when hot turn in the meat and let it brown. When well colored add boiling water to cover and a small sliced onion and let it simmer a couple of hours or until thoroughly done; then prepare the dumplings in this way: Sift together two cupfuls of flour, a teaspoonful and a half of baking powder and half a teaspoonful of salt. Add a cupful of milk, mix thoroughly and drop the batter in large spoonfuls on the meat. Take care not to let them fall into the gravy, else they will be heavy. Cover closely and cook steadily ten minutes or longer, but do not uncover until ten minutes. Arrange around the edge of a hot platter, dish the meat in the center, add flour to the gravy, enough to thicken; cook a couple of minutes, strain over the meat and serve immediately. If preferred the dumplings may be mixed the same as baking powder biscuits, baked, then split and used with the meat and gravy in the same way.

Jewels and Their Settings and Color.

The sapphire is the blue conundrum and its color is from light blue through the shades and tones down to the darkest blue, which is almost black. It is the same in hardness as the ruby, being blue instead of red. The difference in color is caused by very tiny quantities of some impurity being present when the original process of crystallization took place.

The color of the best ones is a soft rich blue. Very choice, flawless sapphires are rare, but good stones of this variety are more plentiful than of the ruby. Consequently they are not so expensive.

They are easily located, being found in sandy clay within a few feet of the surface. Mines are not necessary, as pits enable the seeker to locate the gems. Siam yields the finest sapphires, giving about five-eighths of the world's supply.

Any one fortunate enough to possess a rare jewel should see well to it that the setting is firm at all times, for the hardness of the gem is greater than the hardness of the gold; consequently many a stone has worked its way out of its owner's possession and been lost.

Satin For Bags.

The vogue of satin for frocks and hats has led to a number of satin bags and cardcases. Even cigarette cases for the woman who indulges in the weed are to be had in satin. The satin bags are generally embroidered, sontached or bead trimmed. One new bag which magnetizes attention is trimmed with a fringe of small silver bells.

A fair exchange is no robbery, except possibly in the eyes of the man who trades his money for experience.

PURITY AND POWER

Necessary to Overcome Impure Blood and Weak Conditions

The recent trying weather, exposure to storms, the grip, hard colds, pneumonia, fevers, diphtheria and other blood-poisoning, prostrating diseases leave the whole system subnormal—below par—weak and slow—blood depleted and thin, with that tired feeling, poor appetite, delicate digestive power or almost none at all.

The ideal treatment is

Hood's Sarsaparilla—to be taken before meals—thoroughly to purify the blood and expel poisons, and

Peptiron Pills—to be taken after meals to put power into the blood, give strength, increase red corpuscles and restore normal health-tone.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has for 40 years won and held the favor of the people.

Peptiron Pills are named from pepsin and iron—and include nux and other good blood and stomach tonics.

Be wise and begin on this sensible, reliable course of medicine today.

In Memoriam.

In loving remembrance of our darling, Iva E. Maharg, who departed this life April 6, 1915, aged two years, seven months.

Her dear sweet smiles no more we see,
No more her lips can kiss.
And yet what comfort 'tis to know
She reigns in Heavenly bliss.
Heaven now retains our treasure;
Earth the lonely casket keeps.
And the sunbeams love to linger
Where our darling Iva sleeps.
Mrs. George Maharg.

In Memoriam.

Three long years have passed away,
Since that sad and mournful day,
God alone, for He knew best,
Called him to that home of rest.

Mr. Ortha P. Boring and family desire publicly to express their gratitude to those who assisted and cheered them during the illness and recent death of their son and brother, Earl Leonard Boring, especially to the men of the nickeling department of the Wehrle company and to the members and pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran church. 4-7-1t*

You never can tell. The man who has a good opinion of himself may be a mighty poor judge of human nature.

The Courts

Common Pleas Court.

In the case of Frank Gory vs. M. C. Clark, leave was given to make James Nelson Black, a party defendant. Edward Kibler and J. A. Flory, heretofore appointed a committee to draft amendments to the rules of the court, made their report. The rules, as reported by the committee, were adopted, and will be printed by the clerk, B. O. Horton.

In common pleas court on Friday morning the court heard the arguments of counsel in the case of Stephen H. Lashley vs. Eleanora C. Lashley. The court then took the case under advisement. Plaintiff asks for a divorce. The defendant filed an answer asking for alimony. Temporary alimony, pending the final hearing of the case, has been paid by the plaintiff to his wife for some months in the sum of $42.50, for her support and the support of his three minor children. She asks that this amount be increased, claiming that it is insufficient for her support and the three children. The plaintiff holds a position with the State Utilities Commission.

Suit For Money.

Susan J. Shields has filed a petition in common pleas court against the Knights of Columbus demanding the payment of a policy of $1,000 made and delivered to plaintiff, the petition alleges, on Dec. 12, 1902, taken on the life of Wm. J. Shields, Jr., who died Dec. 27, 1917, the defendant refusing to pay same.

Justice Jones' Court.

Charles I. Oatman was brought into the justice court of D. M. Jones on a non-support charge on the affidavit of his wife. He is charged with the non-support of two minor children and pleaded not guilty. The hearing was set for Monday afternoon at one o'clock.

Marriage License.

Ralph W. Miller, a rubber worker of Royal, Neb., and Mrs. Lucile Pipes of Hebron, O.

ABOUT BABY WEEK

The Children's Bureau Has Started the Campaign.

HOW ABOUT YOUR OWN TOWN?

First Week of May Is the Best Time, but Plan Your Work So It Best Fits In With Local Conditions and Prepares For Summer.

[Prepared by the children's bureau, Washington.]

The 1917 baby week bids fair to be an even bigger, more worth while celebration than last year's, but 1916 will keep the distinction of being the year when each community's provision for the welfare of its babies was generally recognized as a civic responsibility.

Have your baby week from the 1st to the 6th of May if possible. This date has been agreed upon by the bureau and the General Federation of Women's Clubs as the time best adapted to the varying conditions of different states.

It requires only twelve months for a baby to become one year old and no longer subject to the hazards of infant mortality, but there are still many risks for him to encounter. He is still absolutely helpless, although increasingly charming, and his parents are as eager to keep him well and happy, as desirous of sound advice, as they were last year. Open out the 1917 baby week to include all children still at home with their mothers.

Remember the mothers. Well cared for, healthy mothers are necessary for the health and happiness of their babies. Find out what your community is doing to insure to every mother skilled advice and adequate care before and after her baby is born and give the importance of protecting the mother a prominent place in the educational work of the campaign.

And one word to communities where infantile paralysis has been epidemic: Mothers should be urged to leave the baby at home during baby week. Any feature of the campaign involving the bringing together of numbers of babies must of course be omitted, but such features are not essential to the interest and success of a campaign. And baby week will afford an excellent opportunity for giving information as to the proper physical training of children with paralyzed muscles.

The baby week emphasizes the constructive side of infant care. It addresses not only individual parents, but communities.

The best test of its value will be the work that follows it.

Undoubtedly every state board of health should secure what only six states have at present—a special division of child hygiene. No city or town should fail to provide instructive nursing service and to pay constant heed to the problems of hygiene and sanitation, of proper housing and of recreation spaces, since all these immediately affect the welfare of infants.

There are 3,009 counties in the United States. In every county seat there should be a center for the health work of that county, a station for examining babies and older children and for furnishing expert advice for keeping them well—in short, a health teaching center.

and trimmed with pique pipings and a diagonally piped belt. A black velvet bow tie has a quite grownup effect.

A Cheap Dessert.

Take half dozen bananas, slice them into a deep dish, squeeze the juice of half a lemon over them, covering them with water and half cupful of sugar. Stir them with a dessert spoon, place in ice chest one hour before using. They are good without going on ice.

Just because a fellow is a perfect stick is no reason why the girls should be stuck on him.

What Ohio Club Women Are Doing

Mrs. Prentice E. Rood, Director of Press.

This is the season of program making for next year's club work. The club that can combine the subjects which make for greater usefulness as well as those which pertain to self-culture will justify its existence. The times are too full of vital problems which women must help to solve to devote much mental force on the "Arthurian Romances."

Baby Week.

Last year 2,100 committees reported a celebration of Baby Week. In view of the fact that the United States includes more than 14,000 incorporated cities, towns and villages, the proportion acknowledging the need of protection for their baby population is pitifully small. Every community would profit by such a campaign. It rests with the women's clubs to work out the idea, be it ever so simple.

The first week in May is not far away. Women, get busy. Write to the Children's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor, Washington. From that source you will receive full instructions, which will enable you to work out a plan, simple or elaborate. Report your plan to Mrs. Josephine L. Peirce, Lima, chairman of the Baby Week Campaign in Ohio.

Civics.

While it is manifestly better to keep clear than to be compelled like the old southern mammy, to have "a clarin' out spell," is it now the proper time to dispose of the winter's accumulation of rubbish.

The bureau of vital statistics asserts that one-third of the deaths of persons under 40 years of age is caused directly by filth diseases.

The fire marshal reports that more than 1,000 fires, with a loss exceeding $1,000,000, are caused yearly by trash and rubbish.

War on Mosquitoes.

The Commerce Club of Toledo, through a special committee, has made an exhaustive study of the situation regarding the mosquito problem. The results of the investigations have been brought together in the form of an illustrated lecture, which a member of the committee will give before any organization in the city.

Art.

Mrs. Cyrus E. Perkins of Grand Rapids, Mich., chairman of the Art department of the General Federation, has asked the Ohio Federation through its president, Mrs. George Zimmerman, to lend its assistance in securing a State Art Commission and regulation of billboards.

Thrift Gardens.

The idea of thrift gardens seems to be growing throughout the state, and preparations are being made for a determined attack upon the foe, H. C. L.

Economy, thrift and preparedness will be the best lessons learned from the cultivation of vacant lots and back yards.

Conservation.

Mrs. A. V. Bauman of Fremont, chairman of Conservation, urges club women to remember that April is the logical conservation month. She reports much tree planting in Ohio, especially along the Lincoln highway in Ashland and Crawford counties. She suggests that the clubs urge the Boy Scouts to watch the trees and aid in the destruction of all tree pests.

Club Notes.

The Research club of Loveland, numbering only 18 members, established a library for their town, and on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons of each week, the members in their turn serve as librarians.

Clubwomen interested in child welfare can obtain the film "Uncle Sam's Babies." This film was made with the assistance of the Chicago Woman's Club. Its educational value is unquestioned and it can be obtained by writing the National Welfare and Educational Association, 1417 Jackson Blvd., Chicago.

The billboard has long been the object of club women's disapproval, and there is great rejoicing in Chicago over a recent ordinance, ruling that on a residential street, billboards cannot be erected unless a majority of the owners on both sides of the street consent to their erection.

Mrs. Mary I. Wood, Portsmouth, N. H., chairman of the Bureau of Information of the General Federation of Women's clubs reports that during one month of the present club year, 74 requests had been received from Ohio, including data for club papers and other information bearing upon club work.

Have You Seen One of the New Tile Mirrors From Delft?

DUTCH BEAUTY.

From Mildred Richardson Kelly, New York.

THESE tiles from Holland are a crystal mat, or glaze, in many interesting color schemes. For example, the peacock is a complementary color scheme of blue-green and burnt orange, the wing being in this shade. They are designed to fill spaces on mirror tops or panels, as coats of arms, teapot stands and as nursery friezes. In the small shaving mirror a black chanticleer crows across a rising sun, while in the large one a white swan floats across a limpid blue lake. Puss in boots makes a delightful gift for the toddler. Three nursery tiles are illustrated as good friends of the babies, and there are also faithful dogs, a bat flying past a sleepy moon and charming Dutch ships sailing into the sunset. Butterflies and fishes make fetching protections for hardwood tables on which vases of flowers are set, while a wild goose spans a blue lake as well as your mirror. Those who wish to be especially effective will choose a dashing cockatoo as end man on a wide panel mirror over opposite a vain polly with a gorgeous tail. They face each other in quite neighborly confabs. After all, despite the human interest of these tiles, their chief charm lies in their wonderfully soft, pure colors. They are framed in Circassian walnut, beveled mahogany or any enameled wood of choice.

Chicago Grain.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Chicago, April 7.—Wheat prices jumped skyward today on receipt of news that the government crop report showed the domestic winter crop was in a condition far worse than even the most bullish forecasts had implied.
Initial prices which were irregular, varying from ¼c off to 1⅞c up with May at 2.04½@2.07½ and July at 1.75@1.75½, were followed by a sharp decline all around and then a nearly unparalleled general advance. Within an hour astonishing further advances had been made, carrying the prices for wheat soaring as much as 13½c above Thursday's closing figures. The chief result was in the September option, which touched 1.75; with July simultaneously at 1.88 and May 2.11¼. At the same instant, prices were as much as 2c apart for the same option in different parts of the pit.
Wheat futures closed with the advance well held: May 2.12@2.12¼; July 1.88@1.88⅝; September 1.74¼@1.75.
Corn soared with wheat. The advances, though were not so radical as in the wheat pit, being limited to about 1c when wheat was up nearly 11c.
The market closed nervous at gains of 3⅝c to 5½c net
Oats reflected only to a comparatively slight degree the upward action of other cereals. Extreme gains were about ½c as much as in corn.
Provisions mounted with grain. The chief rise was in lard, 40c to 50c.

Suspending Wool Sales.

Chicago has followed the policy adopted by Boston of suspending wool trading until government needs are ascertained and Philadelphia is expected to fall in line. Merchants, individually, in St. Louis and Baltimore, have pledged themselves to the same action.
The Boston merchants voluntarily have suspended all trading pending the ascertainment by a committee of five members of the trade what the needs of the United States Government are.
The members pledge themselves to refrain from buying or selling wool now in this country or in transit to this country, until notified by the above committee of the government's needs and to furnish a true inventory of stocks of wool, noils and tops owned by them to the committee on April 3 They will also offer the wools they own to the government at prices current on April 2.

Wall Street.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, April 7.—Trading in stocks, interrupted by the Good Friday holiday, was resumed for the brief week-end session today. First prices were irregularly lower, fresh liquidation being largely induced by reports of the appearance of a German raider off the New England coast. The more substantial declines of the first half hour included Bethlehem Steel, new stock, and Maine preferred, which fell almost 3 points each, with 1 to 3 for Lackawanna Steel, Chino Copper, Industrial Alcohol, Studebaker, General Motors, Ohio Gas, Mexican Petroleum and Corn Products. United States Steel also fell over a point with general reversals in rails, Reading, Union Pacific and Delaware and Hudson showing marked heaviness.
Liquidations and short selling made further serious inroads upon prices in the active dealings of today's stock market. War shares and associated equipments and industrials recorded gross declines of 3 to 5 points in some cases falling as much as 8 points.
Shippings also were 2 to 4 points lower with oils and the many miscellaneous issues which move with the general list. Rails of the first class lost 2 to 4 points, making lowest prices after publication of the government crop report. Rallies of 1 to 2 points occurred in the diminished dealings of the last hour, but the closing was heavy. Sales were estimated at 650,000 shares. Bonds were weak.

What to Do for Itching Skins

There is usually immediate relief for skins itching, burning and disfigured by eczema, ringworm, or similar tormenting skin-trouble, in a warm bath with resinol soap and a simple application of resinol ointment. The soothing, healing resinol medication stops itching at once, and soon clears away all trace of eruption, even in severe and stubborn cases, unless the trouble is due to some serious internal disorder.

You need never hesitate to use resinol. It is a doctor's prescription that has been used by other physicians for twenty years in the treatment of skin affections. It contains absolutely nothing that could injure the tenderest skin. Every druggist sells resinol ointment and resinol soap. Resinol Soap soothes tender skins and helps to make poor complexions clear, fresh and velvety, because it contains this resinol prescription.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes —Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

AUDITORIUM.

King Baggot.

Many a fair movie fan of Grand Rapids today exhales the self-satisfied air of one whose great ambition has been achieved. Yesterday afternoon and last night King Baggot, idol of screen patrons, personally introduced himself to Grand Rapids audiences at Powers' theater in connection with his feature picture, "Absinthe," states a Grand Rapids daily.

The fans found Mr. Baggot to be just the same sort of a fellow in real life that he often has appeared on the screen. A pleasing, friendly personality dominates his stage actions. None of the prideful arrogance which so often ruins popular favorites, seems to have spoiled the Universal star. His smile is quite real, and his voice distinct and clear, just the sort his admirers had expected.

King Baggot is at the Auditorium today himself, and no doubt Newark fans will have the same to say regarding Baggot as the Grand Rapids papers speak of him in the above write up. King Baggot will speak following each showing of the five part photodrama, "Absinthe," and the showings are continuous, commencing at 1 o'clock today.

Scene From "Fair and Warmer," Selwin & Co.'s New York Success, Attraction at Auditorium Tuesday, April 10th

Mme. Petrova.

Mme. Petrova, who takes the part of Norma Russell in the great Metro-Popular Plays and Players production of "Extravagance," is a star of the first magnitude. Born in Warsaw, Poland, she went to London with her parents when a child. Her mother was a native of Poland and her father was an Englishman.

The gifted young actress attracted so much attention that she was engaged to make a tour of England, France, Russia and South Africa. Returning to England, she took up straight dramatic work for a time and then went to Paris where she was starred in the famous Folies Bergere.

Mme. Petrova might be called a Newarkite, for she is married to Dr. Stewart, who as a boy was brought up in Newark. His parents still living here.

"Extravagance," together with Charlie Chaplin in "One A. M." also Joe Lyons, a singer of wonderful voice, will be the Sunday program at the Auditorium. The orchestra will also be heard in special Easter music and in all a great program is promised Newark picture fans.

Joe Lyons, a wonderful lyric tenor, will be heard at the Auditorium tomorrow in connection with the Sunday picture program. Mgr. Fenberg heard Mr. Lyons at Columbus last Wednesday when looking over "The Girls From Joyland" company at the Lyceum theater, where he made a tremendous hit with his voice. Mgr. Fenberg was so much taken with it, that he immediately engaged him to sing Sunday at a great expense, but Fenberg believes in giving his friends and patrons all there is and expense does not stand in the way. Mr. Lyons will sing between the two wonderful features, Mme. Petrova in "Extravagance," and Charlie Chaplin in "One A. M."

'Joyland Girls."

The Lynn, Mass., Daily News, in commenting upon "The Girls From Joyland," the attraction that comes to the Auditorium theater for a one day engagement commencing Monday, had the following to say:

"Blood starters of the classiest kind that ever donned fleshlings is the aggregation of skippy maids who are appearing at the Lynn theater this week under the caption of "The Girls From Joyland." Joy must be the middle name of every maid in the company for the show, from start to finish, is one long, joyous, scream of unrestrained merriment. Every girl in the company, 20 in number, is a shapely creation of well developed loveliness which her garments show to best advantage. Everything in the show goes with a dash and snap. The comedians are undoubtedly the funniest we have ever seen in this line of entertainment and it might be said they are even better than many we see with the higher priced musical shows."

Seats now selling for both matinee and evening performances Monday.

Joe Lyons, "Girls From Joyland," Attraction at Auditorium April 9th.

"Fair and Warmer."

When Selwyn & Co. again present "Fair and Warmer" at the Auditorium theater on next Tuesday evening, April 10, they will offer to a grateful public the first Avery Hopwood laughmaker since his far-famed "Seven Days" and "Nobody's Widow," the biggest success in the long and distinguished line of Selwyn successes; the farce which packed the Ellinge and Harris theaters in New York for just one year, and has just completed its seventh month at the Cort theater, in Chicago.

Four young and prosperous persons with leisure to take themselves very seriously, are oddly assorted as one very good husband with a giddy wife, and one very good wife with a philandering husband.

The festive two overtax the patience of their respective marriage partners, who in turn, for purposes of revenge vow to be thoroughly wicked.

Seats now selling.

Easter Music.

Gus Bieber's celebrated Auditorium orchestra will render a special Easter program at the Auditorium tomorrow and Mr. Frank Reynolds will play the Marsh organ all day together with the orchestra.

ALHAMBRA.

Sunday.

Richness of scenic environment and a crescendo of startlingly dramatic episodes reaching a gigantic climax mark "The Badge of Shame," the new picture of life under the lash of the Russian secret police, in which the Clara Kimball Young service, World pictures, will present Clara Kimball Young at the Alhambra on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

To secure the interiors of the prison workshops in the Lasky-Paramount production "The Prison Without Walls," in which Wallace Reid and Myrtle Stedman will be seen at the Alhambra on Monday and Tuesday, the company obtained permission to use the workrooms of a well known penitentiary and the services of a number of guards and trusties. As this was the first time a motion picture had ever been enacted within its walls, the warden gave permission for as many of the good record prisoners as possible to watch the filming of the scenes.

LYRIC.

The Edwards-Wilson company now playing at the Lyric theater is one of the most popular companies that has ever appeared in Newark and are causing a mild sensation with the classy plays they are offering. The most noticeable feature of the plays is that they are clean, moral and up to the minute. The company itself is one of the most evenly balanced seen here in many a day. Next week the company will change the plays and specialties each day. The play for Monday will be an exceptionally interesting comedy drama in four acts, "Hearts of Gold." This play is a combination of surprises, telling the story of a girl's undying love and exposing the horrible convict labor system of some of the southern states. The comedy in the play is the kind one generally likes to see and each of the four acts is filled to the brim with it.

HIGH SCHOOL.

Hawaiian Concert.

Hawaaian music was originally introduced into this country to be used in the "Bird of Paradise," and was met with such enthusiasm that it was taken up by Victor Talking Machine Co., who introduced it into the American homes.

Records were made with the intention of distributing them in the Hawaiian Islands, but as the music was readily accepted by the American people the Victor company was taxed to its utmost to supply the demand in the United States.

The Ford Hawaaian Quintet is one of the best in this country and its appearance at the high school auditorium next Friday will give the people of Newark an opportunity to hear the original after becoming so enthusiastic over the "canned" variety of Hawaiian music.

HARTMAN.

Next week will be a big week at the Hartman theater, Columbus, for on Monday night, April 9, Al Jolson, inimitable comedian, will take possession for a week of the Hartman stage with the big original cast of the New York Winter Garden musical extravaganza, "Robinson Crusoe Jr." The company is the largest ever sent out from the Winter Garden and numbers 200, including the prize beauty chorus.

The book of "Robinson Crusoe Jr." is by Harold Atteridge and Edgar Smith, the music by Sigmund Romberg and James Hanley, who have sketched out an ideal role of Mr. Jolson as Crusoe's good man "Friday." Of course Mr. Jolson has some new songs, a lot of them. Among the numbers he warbles are "Down Where the Suwance River Flows," "You're a Dangerous Girl," "Yacki Hicki Doola," "Tillie Titwillow," "Mammy's Little Coal Black Rose," and one that has raced into local popularity ahead of the show, "Where Did Robinson Crusoe go With Friday Saturday Night?"

WE ARE ALL GAMBLERS

GAMBLING is one of the most deep-seated instincts in the human soul. And naturally so, says science, for life itself is a gamble. Only those animals which took risks, hoping that they would succeed, could have survived in the primeval struggle for existence.

Says a noted psychologist:

"Consider the sparrow seeking its food in the street, consider the sly fox and the timid hare, consider, in fact, all the undomesticated animals, and you will see what a gamble animal life is. From the moment of birth on through childhood the human being gambles with nature for its existence, and how very often does it lose! Later, when the young man has to choose a profession it's a gamble; when he marries, it is still a gamble, and so it continues to the end of his days.

"War is the greatest game of all, and commerce could not be if men were unwilling to run risks and take chances. What inventions, think you, should we have if scientists did not now and then take a gambling chance in their experiments? The scholar who writes a book and the publisher who brings it out take a chance; the physician takes a chance every day of life: so does the lawyer, the business man, the soldier, sailor, miner, policeman, detective, the bridge builder, the street cleaner, the fireman, the farmer, the factory man—indeed, it would be very difficult to find a trade or occupation in which the element of risk does not exist.

"I have tried to show in a few words that gambling pervades the warp and woof of our whole existence; that it is found among all peoples and in all ages, and that without it in some degree there could be no evolution or progress. This country, for example, would still be in the hands of the Indians if Columbus had not taken a big gambling chance; nor would it be larger than New England if the doughty pioneers had not risked their lives and blazed a way westward and across the Rockies. But why take any more chances than you have to. Don't gamble—buy from him.

PRAYER, UNITY OF EFFORT, PERSONAL WORK NEEDED TO EVANGELIZE CITY

Dr. J. Knox Montgomery

Formally and solemnly dedicated to God for the preaching of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, for earnest prayer, a unity of effort and personal work, the great Bromley tabernacle is now ready for the opening of the six weeks union evangelistic campaign conducted by Dr. L. H. Bromley of Wilmore, Ky., under the auspices of fifteen co-operating Newark churches. The first regular meeting of the campaign to be conducted by Dr. Bromley will be held Sunday afternoon.

The great building, with a seating capacity of nearly 5,000 was dedicated last night with a splendid address by Dr J. Knox Montgomery, president of Muskingum college, New Concord. His address was one which might well be calculated to fill those who expect to take active part in the coming campaign with the proper spirit for their work.

Eloquent, earnest and forceful, Dr. Montgomery in his talk, laid particular stress upon the fact that the responsibility for success or failure of the coming meetings did not rest upon the shoulders of the evangelist who will speak each day. That responsibility, Dr. Montgomery declared, rested upon the individual members of the co-operating churches and that its failure if it does fail, will be their fault just as its success, if it does succeed, will be theirs.

Last night's meeting was not largely attended. The big building was not one-third full. It was uncomfortably cool in the building, despite the fact that the numerous stoves had been kept going during the day to take the chill and dampness out of the atmosphere.

Many of the preachers of the city were present and took part in the meeting. The music was furnished by a chorus choir of nearly 200 voices, less than half the number which will fill the big choir section when the meetings are in full swing. Mrs. Chandler Tucker directed the chorus. Two numbers were sung by a male quartet.

Dr. Charles H. Stull of the First Baptist church, first addressed the audience on behalf of the evangelistic commission. He introduced Donald F. Stevens, chairman of the executive committee which has had charge of the preliminary work up to this time. Mr. Stevens presided throughout the evening.

A passage of Scripture was read by Rev. Grover Diehl of the Plymouth Congregational church and Rev. R. E. Carman of the Central Church of Christ offered prayer, asking Divine blessing upon the building, and upon the campaign about to open. Unusual earnestness marked his invocation of Divine guidance upon the President and his advisers in this hour of the Nation's crisis.

In introducing Dr. Montgomery, Mr. Stevens said that the commission, after completing the preliminary work incident to the construction of the building and planning the campaign, cast about to find some one to speak at the dedicatory services who could deliver a message which would properly prepare the people spiritually for the work to come. In Dr. Montgomery, the commission believed they had found that man.

Dr. Montgomery, in prefacing his remarks, declared he believed the inauguration of the campaign at this particular moment in the nation's hour of trial would be a good thing, rather than the contrary.

"Some of you might have thought it unfortunate that that national crisis came at this particular phase of your plans," he said. "You probably thought that it would be difficult to get the minds of Newark people concentrated on spiritual things when such grave questions confronted the nation. I believe that it will be a good thing. These national questions will have placed the people in a sober, serious mood. They will already have been diverted from the more frivilous thoughts.

"It is particularly timely that the governor of the state has set aside next Wednesday as a day of prayer. If ever there was a time in the last fifty years when man needed to be turned toward spiritual things, when he needed to be humbled before God, that time is now. I believe the fires of patriotism will burn more freely if the people of your community come to this building and hear God's message from His servant."

Dr. Montgomery said the building was, primarily, dedicated to God. He said that in so dedicating it, it was sent aside for God's use for three things: for prayer, for unity and for personal work.

Elaborating upon these three purposes, Dr. Montgomery showed that the earnest prayers of Christian men and women of Newark were needed to crown the efforts of Evangelist Bromley with success. He said that it was the duty of the church people to send up to heaven, such a continuous and insistent appeal, that God would find no rest until he bestowed his rich blessings upon the efforts of the evangelist and the churches and made the tabernacle site a hallowed and sacred place, where thousands of souls were born into the Kingdom.

"I believe the preachers seated upon this platform will agree with me," said Dr. Montgomery, "that what Newark needs is not so much great preaching as great prayer. The devil is not worrying himself so much about what will be done and said here, as he is about what the Christian men and women of Newark will be doing in the way of prayer for the next six weeks. He knows the power of prayer.

These meetings to come will be union meetings. Christ preached unity when he was on earth. He prayed that the world might be one 'even you and I are one.' The unity of the church emphasizes the need of individual work, the importance of church members working and the responsibility of each member of the church body working to the single end.

"At Saratoga Springs, some of you have visited the great bottling works where the mineral waters are bottled. But none of you saw the bottler stand on the platform with a hose in his hand, trying to squirt the water into the bottles, ranged in rows in front of him. He took each bottle by the neck, placed it under the flowing stream until it was filled.

"That is where the personal work will come in. Dr. Bromley cant stand on this platform and pour forth the gospel broadcast and fill his hearers with the spirit. There is personal work to be done. These workers must bring forward, those who are living without God and have their hearts filled. Dr. Bromley will do his part but he will need a vast amount of help from the personal workers. With the evangelistic message, the personal work and faith like those four men who brought the paralytic to Christ at Capernium and lowered the sick man through the roof that Christ might heal him, the meetings will be crowned with success.

"I hope you will never gather here without realizing that the eyes of God are looking down upon you and that his heart is here. And God is, and gets a chance, his grace is felt."

Announcement was made last night that the first rehearsal of the big chorus, under Musical Director Weiand would be held at the tabernacle Saturday evening.

The first meeting of the Bromley campaign will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and another meeting will be held Sunday night.

There will be no evangelistic meeting at the tabernacle Monday, but at 8 o'clock Monday evening, a patriotic mass meeting of the people of Newark and vicinity wi.. be held.

Announcement also was made of the annual Y. M. C. A. meeting and dinner Monday evening at 5:45 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church, when A. T. Seymour of Columbus will speak. A special appeal was made for a big attendance at that meeting which will be concluded in time for those attending to take part in the patriotic demonstration.
